ead a horse on land, whether by forek, mane or nose, the only part of a area by which he may be led in the water Where a fractious land horse may be handled if you grasp him firmly by the nose, this treatment only makes a bouring horse turn somersaults and tires him out without accomplishing the breover, no self-respecting horse, land or water, will stand for the smell of ammonia. The fumes go up inside his nose and tickle him and make his spirit revelt against his human master and all

All of which was demonstrated yesterday afternoon, when Ed Fennell, whose father, John Fennell, runs an awning business, was about half way through unloading folding chairs from a delivery wagon on the pier at the foot of West Ninety-sixth street. There was a little social affair on for last night aboard the Naval Reserve ship Granite State, which is moored at the pier, and the chairs were

The single horse attached to the light covered wagon stood peacefully surveying the Jersey shore while chair after chair was taken from the wagon and carried up the gangplank. Since he was accustomed to that sort of job it is likely that there would have been no trouble at all had not a tug towing a string of barges come up rather suddenly and rather close to the pier. When it was opposite the pier the tug gave a mighty toot, all out of pro portion to its size. The horse did not even walt to prick up his ears, but gave of the pier, and then one more, which took him overboard. The horse and wagon got tangled with the stringpiece and the wagon took the initiative and reached the

Ed Fennell, his two helpers and two or hree of the crew of the Granite State talked down to the end of the pier and tooked to see where the rest of the chairs had gone. At first they saw nothing but water. Then, after a moment, there was a mighty threshing down below somethere and a splash, and Leander's head tted up through the surface. Leander nked and started for Weehawken. His blinders flapped with each oncoming wave, and the thills of the wagon, which he had taken time to detach while he was on the bottom hiding from the tug, bobbed | couples tried to call him back, but he had decided to go out into a new country and hegin life all over again. So a boat was lowered from the Granite State and Fennell and his men and a couple of sea-men went after him. When they got close enough to the horse one of them reached out and took hold of his forelock and started to turn him around. But the hair was wet and slippery with the salt water and did not give any sort of a hold on a horse who had resolved to change his life. Then they tried him change his life. Then they tried him by the nose.

What followed is no mere hearsay. It is vouched for by several hundred persons who had gathered on the pier and along the shore. Whenever one of the men got a good grip on Leander's nose the horse would duck his head until he had thrown the man nearly off his balance and then, as if to demonstrate the futility of such means to hold him, Leander's back would come over and then his hind quarters and then his feet and finally his head again. In other words, he would turn a somersault right there in the water. The men put a noose in a rope and threw that over the beast's neck, but it pinched his wind-pipe and he did another somersault and came up with a bunch of salt water in his ame up with a bunch of salt water in his Burnet.

lungs.

The discovery of the proper method was merely a matter of elimination after the ears. So as a last resort Fennell took hold of one ear and one of his as-sistants took hold of the other and they pulled. To their surprise Leander smiled pleasantly, and with a practised kick turned himself around and headed back for Manhattan and bran mash. So far so good. But another difficulty was in tore for the captors of the swimmer. They had forgotten how high a dock stands above the water.

Leander swam along by the side of the boat until he reached almost the exact spot where he had taken off for his final leap, and then thought was taken as to ways and means of hoisting him. There was no derrick in sight, and that was what was needed. Leander waited pa-tiently while his betters were talking the matter over. Finally some one suggested that there was a beach at the foot of Ninety-ninth street, three blocks away. So with the horse in tow, held by the ears, the beat started for Ninety-ninth street. By this time the shore was well lined with ing to give their crews an opportunity that the horse's ears would t tired of the constant strain on them nnell let go and tried the nose again, th the same result as before. After e or six cartwheels and backflops had shown he returned to the ear hold the rest of the journey was made out incident. Off Ninety-ninth street he city all the time, has no chance swimming and so gets soft and flabby its swimming muscles. Then if he ts off and overdoes the very first time s in the water he naturally gives out. that is what happened to Leander. member of the volunteer life saving we at the pier came around with a tile of ammonia and applied it to the nose, and with one good whiff sharp stuff Leander, erstwhile clous, was up and away—in the it his keepers had learned lots of igs by experience. They simply rowed got him by the ears and towed him This time he did not collapse down for a while until he was rested, and then was driven home.

DINNER TO CHAUNCEY DEPEW. Friends and Business Associates Cele brate His Birthday.

Chauncev M. Depew was the guest o oner last evening at a dinner given at innico's by a number of his personal Mr. Depew was 75 years old His hosts included:

Atterbury, vice-president of the ania Railroad Company; William, president of the New York Cennam G. Besler, vice-president and manager of the Central Railroad rsev: Daniel M. Brady, Otis H. prace C. Duval, Chauncey M., William Temple Emmet, Frank the Interborough, Henry S. Hay-Loree, president of the Dela-Waldo H. Marshall, of the American Locomotive William H. Newman, Morgan J. Instice James A. O'Gorman, Charles E. V. W. Rossiter, Clinton L. Tracy Rogers, James Rawle, Shonts, president of the In-Alfred Skitt, president of the Elevated; Henry Sanderson, D. Underwood, president of the and Herbert H. Vreeland, presihe Metropolitan; George A D. Vought and Arthur M. Waitt.

LEANDER TURNS SEA HORSE NEW SHUBERT THEATRE BEGUN. PUSS IN THE D. A. R. CONGRESS

Forty-first Street Is Laid. Lee Shubert and Lew Fields laid the cornerstone yesterday morning of the new Shuhert Comedy Theatre at 108 West Forty-first street. In the copper box in the stone were placed copies of the New York daily papers, two twenty dollar gold pieces, a letter from Mr. Shubert and one from Charles E. Force, 19 Wall street head of Charles E. Force & Co., the builders of the theatre and a letter originally placed in the building in 1980, when the structure was first erected as St Luke's Mathedist Frieders!

placed in the building in 1800, when the structure was first erected as St Luke's Methodist Episcopal Church.

The new theatre, under the management of Sam S. & Lee Shubert, Inc., will open in the early autumn. It will be one of the smallest of the important theatres in this city, with a seating of only 638 persons, and will be reserved for comedy and small dramatic presentations. Walter N. Lawrence will act as the business manager of the theatre. The new theatre makes the fifteenth in the city to be controlled wholly or in part by the Shuberts.

BOSTON OPERA PLANS.

New Playhouse Will Be Dedicated on November 8-Some of the Singers. BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Henry Russell, director of the Boston Opera, to-day made the first announcement of the company that he has gathered thus far for the new theatre and of his present plans the D. A. R. The last day's session for the opening performance at the house.

The most notable item in the list of the company is the name of Mr. Constantino, the tenor. He has rejoined the company for two years. Mme. Nordica is likewise a member of it, and the roster in detail indicates a promising sufficiency of practised and established singers as well as of baginners.

of beginners.

The opening of the house is appointed for Monday evening, November 8, when there will be dedicatory exercises and a performance of Ponchielli's "La Gloconda," with Mme. Nordica and Mr. Constantino in the principal parts.

Some of the singers secured are: Sopranos and mezzo sopranos, Mmes.
Bueninsegna, Claessans, Dereyne, Lewicka, Makarof and Nordica; tenors, D'Alessandro, Balestrini, Constantino, Giaccone, Hansen, Kubitzky, Oggero, Stroesco and Vanni; barytones, Blanchart, Boulogne, Fornari, Pulcini and Sarmiento; bassos, Archambault and Nivette.

DREAMLAND TO OPEN MAY 15. Many New Things Promised When the Park Is Ready for the Summer.

The season at Dreamland will oper Saturday, May 15. In the last four months, under the direction of the general manager. Samuel W. Gumpertz, workmen have made many changes. One of the have made many changes. One of the notable improvements is in the ballroom, which has dancing floor space for 1,500 couples. Where the pony track was lopated has been constructed a picturesque wistaria walk with settees and tables. This surrounds the lagoon, over the centre of which is the big circus ring where a free performance will be given. A new scenie railway constructed as a racing course between boats has been built out over the pier and ocean. Bostock's animals are arriving daily, and a number of new acts are being put on the mammoth performing cage.

THE H. W. POOR SALE ENDS. Total for the Auction of the House Fur nishings $171,445.50.

The auction of the art furnishings and decorations of the Henry W. Poor home on Gramercy Park closed yesterday evening with total proceeds of $171,445.50. The proceeds of yesterday afternoon's session of the auction were $70,759.50. Mr. Kirby, after leading the interested procession of purchasers through the house and selling the greater part of the catalogue lots apportioned to the afternoon. left the outdoor, or garden, objects to be knocked down by his assistant, Otto

The Metropolitan Museum of Art was the purchaser of the twelfth century marall. Given a horse's head above water and having tried his nose and the mane stood for ages near Fiano, Italy. The and having tried his nose and the mane and forelock there isn't much left but the ears. So as a last resort Fennell move hold of one ear and one of his assistants took hold of the other and they teenth century Flemish tapestry (583) sold for $5,600. A pair of hall tables (5) sold at $1,280, a carved stone mantel of the Italian Renaissance (16) at $1,100, the wall panelling of the Louis XVI. period (58) at the same figure, the ancient Italian carved stone mantel (85) to George McKesson Brown at $1,200, four Italian carved stone columns (92) to Mrs. J. J. Astor at $600, a marble wall font (120) to Mrs. Henry Clews at $1,275, two Cippolino columns (121) at $150, an ancippolino columns (121) at $130, an an-tique marble mantel (131) at $3,250, a celling from an ancient Umbrian palace which Mr. Poor had used in his hall (132) for $2,000 to Mrs. Untermyer, a rarely beautiful sideboard of French walnut, carved (341), at $1,025, and the stone man-tel (346) at $1,500—with this last going the wrought iron andirons (347) for another $100.

> DINNER AT THE WHITE HOUSE. The President and Mrs. Taft Entertain a Company of Thirty-two.

WASHINGTON, April 24.-The President and-Mrs. Taft entertained at dinner this had evening. Covers were laid for thirty-two. The table decorations were bridesmaid horse found bottom and walked ashore.

algeady was out of the water when legs gave way under him and he colsed.

New York delivery horse, cooped up the city all the time, has no chance, swimming and so gets soft and flabby

New York delivery horse, coaped up the city all the time, has no chance, swimming and so gets soft and flabby

Senator Foster, Senator James P. Clarke, swimming and so gets soft and flabby Mrs. Taft wore a white satin gown Senator Foster, Senator James P. Clarke, Senator and Mrs. Flint, Senator and Mrs. Taylor, Senator and Mrs. Cummins, Senator Bristow, Representative and Mrs. William A. Jones, Representative and Mrs. R. Wayne Parker, Representative and Mrs. Michael E. Driscoll, Representative and Mrs. J. V. V. Olcott, Representative John M. Morehead, Benito Lagarda, Philippine delegate in Congress, and Lieutenant-Commander L. C. Palmer.

Wireless From Japanese Training Squad

Los Angeles, Cal., April 24.-A wireles despatch from the cruiser Azo, at sea says that the Japanese training squadron, consisting of the cruisers Azo and Soya, in command of Admiral Ijichi, will arrive at San Pedro to-morrow morning.

Anglo-American Fine Art Co. J. D. Ichenhäuser, President 523 Fifth Avenue (Between 43rd & 44th Sts.) New York

Old Masters of the Early Italian, Flemish, Spanish, Galleries Open, 9 o'c. A. M .- 6 o'c. P. M.

INSPECTION INVITED

ELECTION OF TWO NATIONAL OFFICERS CONTESTED.

completed to-night with a reballoting for the office of corresponding secretary general, and Mrs. Mabel G. Swormstedt of Washington was elected, receiving 183 votes against 181 cast for Mrs. Elinor an extra day would have to be added for reballoting for the office of recording secretary-general. As it happened the Daughters met at 3:30 in the afternoon to cast votes for the office, which was left unfilled after Thursday's voting, but there was so much to be said and so many speeches made in regard to the way the voting should be done that it was nearly tes party of a session in which roses and soft speeches prevailed. They meant to pass a few resolutions, invite each good-by. But a war cloud arose over in the direction of the large New York delegation—a war cloud which darkened the whole auditorium for a good part of the day. From its interior came the thunder of dissent and argument, and for a time it seemed that the lightning might strike Mrs. Scott, the newly elected presidentgeneral of the D. A. R., for a rumor was in circulation among several of the na-tional officers that her election was to be

5 o'clock before the first vote was cast

It had been the intention of the delegates to get together and have a regular

It all came about because the chairman of tellers, Mrs. Elroy Avery of Cleveland, administration follower, announced last night that there was no decision in the case of Miss Wilcox and Mrs. H. C. Hodgins of Washington, D. C., and this morning announced that Miss Wilcox had been elected by a majority of one vote, getting 435 to Mrs. Hodgins's 434. Mrs. John Francis Yawger of New York, who had been one of the thirty tellers who had counted votes all of Thursday night, arose after the announcement and made a very decided objection to the announcement, not because there was some on Thursday in Paris. Miss Rutherfurd on Thursday in Paris. Miss Rutherfurd on Thursday in Paris. cox's election, but because there was some discrepancy between the report she had signed with other tellers and the announcement made to the congress.

The fuss all turned upon "scattering" votes and the fact that 869 votes had been cast and that Miss Wilcox had received 435 of them. Some of the delegates thought she should have had more, and thought she should have had more, and there was confusion piled upon confusion, in which the biggest gavel in the world would have been useless. The Daughters did not hesitate to express themselves without waiting for the Chair to recognize them in times of great stress.

Out of the confusion there were shouted the confusion which indicated that the cure

Out of the confusion there were questions which indicated that the questions which indicated that the puestions which there had been funny tioners believed that there had been funny business in the tellers' room. This being disposed of, there were accusations that the tellers were short in the knowledge of how to count, and several of the Daughburst into laughter before they had reached the conclusion.

Finally somebody got in a resolution

Finally somebody got in a resolution edgewise that the tellers should all go upstairs and lock themselves in the board room and find out exactly what had happened in the Wilcox-Hodgins vote. There were those who believed that a recount might mean a reballoting and on the principle of let well enough alone cried out "No."

Mrs. McLean asked them to allow her the courtesy of asking for a vote, and Mrs. McLean asked them to allow her the courtesy of asking for a vote, and after it was taken the tellers were, sent out to make up a new report. They made an angry group of tellers as they ascended the marble stairway to the board room, and had much to say about the people that made them do their work all over again. For an hour and a half they sat with heads together and finally came to an opinion. It was somewhat different from the opinion they had reached last night, but the main fact remained unchanged, and Miss Wilcox is now recording secretary of the D. A. R.

When it came time to vote for a corresponding secretary-general again there was ponding secretary-general again there was a bombshell tossed into the congress by the announcement that the chief clerk the announcement that the chief clerk had given away all the regents' and delegates' badges which she had left, and consequently there might be people on the floor who had no right to vote. More confusion. More talk.

During the conversation which filled the flall Mrs. Elroy Awary explained the reason for holding a reballoting. It was because neither candidate had received a majority of the votes cast for the rest of the ticket, but she added the suggestion that inasmuch as Mrs. Mabel G. Swormstedt of Washington had received a few more votes than Mrs. Elinor I. Thorne of Tennessee the office be given to Mrs. Swormstedt. There was almost an uprising at this suggestion. Mrs. McLean put an end to the discussion by ruling that there would have to be another balloting.

TO MAKE STUDENTS PAY. Columbia May Withhold Degrees if Subscriptions Are Not Made Good.

An unexpected step was taken yesterday by the board of student representatives at Columbia to force students who have at any time in their undergraduate career pledged themselves to subscribe o college activities to make full payment before they are graduated. The board held a meeting yesterday and after hearing of a number of instances where stu-dents were intending to leave Columbia without paying the pledges in full passed a resolution stating that the name of any student who has failed to make full pay-student who has failed to make full payment shall be given to the authorities with a recommendation that the student's degree be withheld until the indebtedness has been removed.

This action on the part of the student board is unprecedented, although the university itself withholds degrees in cases where a student is indebted directly to the university and where the manager of an athletic team has outstanding debts which cannot be paid. Both the university registrar, William A. Hervey, and the bursar, George S. Danielson, are in favor of the resolution of the board and declare that it will be enforced.

to the will which has been filed for probate here. Four thousand dollars was left to a sister in Poland.

IN SOCIETY.

Some notable weddings are among the week's events of special That of Miss Muriel White with Count Hermann Scherr-Thoss in Paris prac-Recount for Recording Secretary Results in the Election of Miss Wilcox of Tennessee Reballoting Also for Corresponding Secretary—Small Vote.

Washington, April 24.—With the strength of the D. A. R. congress reduced from 1,400 delegates to 365 the last detail of this year's troublesome election was completed to-night with a reballoting tically extends over a couple of days.

There will be a large assemblage tomorrow afternoon in St. James's Protestant Episcopal Church, Madison avenue and of Washington was elected, receiving 183 votes against 181 cast for Mrs. Elinor I. Thorne of Seattle and this city, the insurgent candidate. The tired delegates had hoped to conclude the session before noon to-day and many of them had arranged to leave Washington tonight. For that reason there was a small vote.

After a long discussion in which a most acrimonious spirit was shown and after the thirty tellers had gone over their work again, Miss Mary L. Wilcox of Tennessee, insurgent, was officially delegated elected recording secretary of the D. A. R. The last day's session was a long, hard pull, contrary to the hopes of Mrs. McLean, the president-general, who told the Daughters that it was her wedding anniversary and she wanted to go home early. So earnest was the discussion that it appeared that an extra day would have to be added for Seventy-first street, for the wedding of

A notable out of town wedding on for Presday will be that of Miss Annabel Fauntleroy McGill and Alfred M. Gawthrop, Jr., of Wilmington, Del. The ceremony will be performed at 12 o'clock in St. James's Protestant Episcopal Church, Leesburg, Va., by the Rev. Dr. Hurlingham Burkhardt. The bride will enter with her brother, Capt. J. Fauntle-roy McGill, U. S. M. C., who will give her in marriage. She will wear a white satin Directoire gown with lace, with tulle veil caught with alwreath of orange blossoms. Miss Lina Shields the maid of honor, will wear a costume of pink batiste and will carry Killarney roses. The bridesmaids will be similarly attired in white and will carry pink roses. They will be the Misses Polly Mason and Mary King Nash. Charles Gawthrop will assist as best man and Henry Gawthrop, Reuben Satterthwaite, Archibald Capell and Ralph Bailey, all of Wilmington, will be ushers. eremony will be performed at 12 o'clock

Women will be admitted to-morrow and Tuesday afternoons at the closing exhibition of the season of American paintings at the Lotos Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley came on from Washington in their motor car late on Thursday in Paris. Duss Average is a cousin of the bride and Miss Buckler is a daughter of Ambassador Henry White's stepbrother, William H. Buckler, secretary of the American Legation at Madrid. A bridal breakfast will be given by Ambassador and Mrs. White after the ceremony. The Count will take his bride to Breslau, where he is stationed at present, and they will pass part of their honeymoon at one of his country seats in Silesia.

George Kearsley Caldwell, to take place at 8 o'clock in the evening in St. Margaret's Church. The Rev. Herbert Scott Smith, the pastor, will perform the ceremony. Miss Myra Davis will attend her sister as maid of honor and the Misses Madeline Davis and Maud Davis, also sisters; Hazen Riley and Anne Holden, will be the bridesmaids. Charles Drayton will assist as best man. A reception to will assist as best man. A reception will on Thursday in Paris. Miss Rutherfurd is a cousin of the bride and Miss Buckler by Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter next Tuesday at her home in Washington.

Mrs. Frederick W. Whitridge will sail en they will go to England. They remain on the other side as usual il October. Mr. Whitridge and his until October. Mr. Whitridge and his son, Arnold Whitridge, will join them at their country place.

The marriage of Miss Elsie W. Lazarus and Henry Root Stern, son of the late Simon Stern, will take place on Thursday April 29, at/the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles P. Howland, 13 West Eleventh street. Walter T. Stern will assist his brother as best man. There will be no bridesmaids or ushers bridegroom is of the law firm of Rush-more, Bixby & Stern.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Draz of 122 East Seventy-second street and their daughter Miss Emily Draz, were among those who Miss Emily Draz, were among those who sailed for Europe yesterday. They expect to land at Cherbourg, to go on to to Paris and Rheims, to visit southern France, Spain, Germany, Austria and England, and to return in July.

Lloyd Lewis, son of the late Thomas S. Lewis of New York, and Miss Anna Stokes Ballard will be married early in

No formal invitations have been sen out for the wedding of Mrs. May Clark Avery, widow of Frank Harris Avery, and James H. Kidder, to take place on and James H. Kidder, to take place on Wednesday afternoon in the chantry of Grace Church. As many as fifty relatives and intimate friends are expected to be present at the ceremony, to be performed by the Rev. Dr. William Reed Huntington, the rector, and Bishop Burgess. There will be no bridesmaids. Mr. Kidder will be assisted by James Parrish Lee as best man. Afterward there will be an informal reception at the Plaza. The couple, who will make their home here, will pass the summer at a nearby country place. summer at a nearby country place

The marriage of Miss Marceline R Dunning, daughter of the late William F. Dunning to Frank Brookfield will take Dunning, to Frank Brookfield will take place on Wednesday in the Brick Presbyterian Church. Mr. Brookfield will be assisted by his cousin, C. Cortlandt Hay, as best man. He is a son of Mrs. William Brookfield.

The marriage of John Hall Watson, son of the late John Hall Watson of the late Lord Napier of the Laurels, Pyrford, Surrey, and a granddaughter of the Laurels, Pyrford, Surrey, Pyrford, Surrey, Pyrford, Surrey, Pyr manager of an athletic team has outstanding debts which cannot be paid. Both the university registrar, William A. Hervey, and the bursar, George S. Danielson, are in favor of the resolution of the board and declare that it will be enforced.

Medjeska's Small Estate.

Santa Ana, Cal., April 24.—Mme. Helena Modjeska left an estate of $5,000, according to the will which has been filed for probate.

The GLORY of the CONQUERED

The Story of a Great Love

By SUSAN GLASPELL

has touched the heart of Americans as only a good love story can. It deals with the best of love, not the worst.

It is passionate and earnest, but pure, sweet and strong. Welcomed by a chorus of praise from every part of the country.

> One of the finest, sweetest, most inspiring love stories that has ever been of an enduring and ab-- Now York Evening Post.

A splendid love story, one of the grandest in recent years . . . Reminds one of George Eliot

-Albany Times-Union.

The CLIMBING COURVATELS By EDW. W. TOWNSEND and her very best wor c.

-Portland Oregeniam.

In this unusual society novel the author of "Chimmie Fadden" sur-passes himself in humo-and tells a delightful story and supper at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Davis, will follow the ceremony.

STOKES-New York

book

to warm

the heart

the soul.

and uplift

-Baltimore Sun. I

This really beautiful and nosolute love can.

ble piece of fiction

... is one that seems to satisfy the readers

as only the depiction

PARTNERS

THREE

By VICTOR MAPES

shout three genial, ex-

STOKES-New York

traordinary characters.

One of the oddest, most

The series of winter dances known as on Wednesday for Europe, accompanied the Colonial will be resumed next winter, by her daughters, the Misses Eleanor Whitridge and Joan Whitridge. They Wednesday night at Duryea's. The patronesses are Mrs. P. Alexander, Mrs. George D. Bangs, Mrs. Victor Herbert Mrs. A. Howard Hopping, Mrs. Samuel Moffitt and Mrs. Edmund J. Palmer. Moffitt and Mrs. Edmund J. Paimer. The floor committee comprises T. Mac-Kenzie Alexander, G. Harold Bangs, Edward D. Bryde, T. Hamilton Burch, Jr., Allen Felton Hopping, Harold Seely Schultz, Joseph D. Sears and Carl Invitations have been received here for the wedding of Miss Sally Mallory Betts and Dr. Merritt Heminway Merriman, to take place to-morrow week, May 3, in Grace Church, Norwalk, Conn. The couple will go abroad for their honeymoon and will return the middle of June and live in their new home, 42 West Seventyfirst street.

Cards are here from Philadelphia fo the wedding of Miss Anna Richmond Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bon-sall Taylor, and John Ruion-Miller, Jr., to take place in Holy Trinity Church, on Thurdsay, April 29.

ELMIRA ALUMNE MEET. Graduates Told Again That Girls Should Go to College.

Alumna of Elmira College gathered more than one hundred strong in the Hotel Majestic yesterday afternoon for the yearly luncheon. Mrs. William R. Bross, president of the Elmira College Club, sat at the centre of the long table and on either side of her were Mrs. Kate Upson Clark, the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson of Broadway Tabernacle, Mrs. Jefferson, Miss Marie Manners, Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly plan to be at Newport by July 4. They gave a dinner on Thursday night at the St. Regis. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney will leave for Europe on Tuesday, May 4.

Emerson H. Liscum, Mrs. Samuel M. Keiper, Mrs. Rufus G. Frost, Mrs. Edgar W. Williams, the club's vice-president; Mrs. H. H. Bice, Mrs. S. M. B. Phraner, the wife of a former president of Elmira Emerson H. Liscum, Mrs. Samuel M. the wife of a former president of Elmira ollege; Miss Clara Simons. Mrs. Madison man there was no reason why she couldn't be as capable. Dr Jefferson had a few things to say about why he thought it was worth while for a woman to go to college. She could have a better time there between the ages of 18 and 22, he declared, and moreover it was the best sort of a place for her to form the right kind of ideals to fit her for anything later on in life.

Mrs. Kate Upson Clark said that she had been reading a lot lately about what foreigners thought of American girls, and it made her blood boil.

"The girls that those men met must

JOSEPH P. McHUGH & CO. - ESTABLISHED 1878.

English Wall Papers at 20c, 25c, 30c. (Ask to See Sample Books): German Linens, 16 Chintzes and

Taffetas to Match Papers: Japanese Grass

Cloth for Walls.

WEDDINGS.

Livingston-Kobbe

Herman Livingston, Jr., and Miss Olga T. Kobbé, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kobbé of 142 East Eighteenth street, were married at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Church of the Heavenly McCullough Birckhead, rector of St. George's or in matched sets Episcopal Church in Stuyvesant Square, performed the ceremony. Miss Kobbé. who was given in marriage by her father wore a white satin gown trimmed with point ace and carried orchids and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids were the Misses Alice R. Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Peters; Elizabeth W. Dodge daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland H.

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland H. Dodge; Clara Livingston Cheesman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Timothy M. Cheesman; Clarinda S. Boardman, daughter of Mrs. Lansdale Boardman; Charlotte I. Grinnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Grinnell, and Susan E. G. Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Drake. Bayard Pruyn was the best man, and the ushers were Henry Livingston, Edmund Livingston, brothers of the bridegroom: Frederick William Kobbé, brother of the bride; Charles V. Hopkins, Charles Whittlesey, all of New York, and Edward Brockie of Philadelphia. After the ceremony there was a reception at the Hotel Buckingham. Mr. Livingston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Livingston of Oak Hill-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.

McDougat-Watts.

The marriage of Capt. Douglas C. Mc Dougal, United States Marine Corps, and Miss Sabina Wood Watts, daughter of Mrs George B. Watts, was celebrated at 12:30 o'clock P M. yesterday at the Church of the Heavenly Rest. Fifth avenue near Forty-fifth street. It was a naval wedding the bridegroom wearing the full dress uni-form of the navy and the ushers in the uniform of the navy and militia. The Rev. Dr. William H. Neilson of Plainfield, N. J. College; Miss Clara Simons. Mrs. Madison
C. Peters, Mrs. William Halsey Telford, Mrs. Katheryn Worcester Worcester, and Mrs. Alva Collins.
Mrs. Bross in her remarks of greeting said that she wasn't going to have anything to say about suffragettes, but that if woman had the same opportunities as man there was no reason why she couldn't man rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, George B. Watts, wore man there was no reason why she couldn't a white satin gown trimmed with old rose point lace and her tulle veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms. Her ornaments were pearls and diamonds and ornaments were pearls and diamonds and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The bridal attendants included the Misses Alice Sabin, daughter of Bishop Sabin; Mabel Hamill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Hamill of Trenton, N. J.: Miss Mabel La Vie and Miss Lottie Williams. Miss Helen Wood Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodhull Green, a niece of the bride, was the maid of honor. She carried a basket of Killarney roses.

Capt. Frank E. Evans, U. S. M. C., was the best man, and the ushers were Passed Assistant Surgeon Morton W. Baker, U. S. N.: Capt. Henry R. Lay, U. S. M. C. Major Henry C. Wilson, Eighth Regiment, N. G., N. Y. and First Lieut. Yarde Breese, Fourth Regiment, N. G., N. J. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's brother, George B. Watts, 72 East. Fifty-fourth street. Capt. McDougal and his bride will spend the summer at Sea Girt, N. J.

French Velvet

Paperhangings for Panelling Drawing Rooms Contracts Made for Decoration . Goods Sold to Customers!

oughly

beautiful story. Optimistic in the best sense of the term.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

9 W. 42d St., Opp. Library - Sign of the "Popular Shop"

Colonial Chiffonieres

the other furnishings of any tasteful home. offer them singly with bureau and dressing table. In every instance the style is accurate and the workmanship is as near per-fection as our fifty years' experience can bring it. Schmitt Brothers

Also Antiques and Reproductions 343 & 345 MADISON AVE

Brentano's Travel Departmen

Guide Books Cable Codes Automobile and Other Mape Phrase Books and Dietion

> Brentano's 5th Ave. and 27th St.

Ask for Callanan's PARROT BRAND RYE WHISKE One of the best distilled in Kentucky; a guaranteed pure; bottled in bond for J. CALLANAN, 41 & 43 VESET

SPECIAL NOTICES

I beg to give notice that I have rei my management of THE NEW YORK TAXICA COMPANY.

The company is now thoroughly and effects organized and officered, is operating from of central garage, and has the most the geographical distribution of stations in the it has also the largest equipment and is prepared to serve the public faithfully and efficiently. Its corps of starters is loval and painstaking its central despatching telephone system has een much improved and its list of chauffeur has been purged and purified and comprises very many capable and experienced men. H. C. HOSKIER.

New York, April 19, 1909.

Prof. Goodale of Harvard Resigns. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 24 - The Harvard College office announces the resignavard College office announces the resigna-tion of George Lincoln Goodale, Fisher professor of natural history and director of the Botanic Gardens since 1888, to take effect on September 1. Prof. Goodale was profe for of natural science at Bowdoin and professor of materia medica at the Medical School of Maine from 1867 till 1872.